CONGRESSMAN ROSS SCORCHES HIS FOES

Second District Convention Held at Glenwood. Regulars Had Majority of 30--Two National Delegates From El Paso.

Special to the Gazette.

Glenwood Springs, May 4.—The Second district Republican congressional convention was held in the opera house here today. It was called to meet at 10 o'clock but owing to the late arrival of the chairman, Judge Robert Kerr of Colorado Springs, the convention was not opened until noon.

The result was a distinct victory for the regular organization forces as against the anti.

The first test of strength came on the election of a temporary chairman. Two candidates were put up, S. K. Newell of Gilpin county and F. D. Castle of Rio Grande. Newell received 212 votes and Castle 182. The result was received with great applause.

A Caucus.

During the forenoon a caucus was held in an effort to secure an adjustment of all differences and thus promote entire harmony in the convention. It was decided to urge the nomination and re-election of Congressman Ross.

In the matter of a delegate to the national Republican convention from the Second district, no decision was reached at [illegible]

Among the names suggested were those of W. S. Boynton and P. E. Stewart, both of El Paso county.

Mr. Boynton agreed to withdraw from the contest if Mr. Stewart would, and thus eliminate El Paso county from the fight.

No conclusion being arrived at the caucus adjourned without arriving at a result on this point.

The Convention.

The morning train which was delayed until noon brought in a number of delegates most of whom were with the regular Republican organization.

The convention was called to order at 12 o'clock and elected Senator Newell of Gilpin county as chairman and immediately appointed the usual committees on resolutions, permanent organization and credentials. There was only one contest involving the five delegates from Routt county.

After recess which lasted until 2:30 the committee on permanent organization reported that the temporary organization be made permanent.

The committee on credentials reported in favor of the regular Republican delegates from Routt county and the convention so ordered.

By over the regular Republicans a majority of 30 over the anti's. From this on it was clear sailing.

The Resolutions.

The resolutions enthusiastically indorsed President Roosevelt and also indorsed the delegates to vote for him at the national convention.

The resolutions also indorsed Governor Peabody and took a strong stand on the labor question in favor of the impartial enforcement of law and order.

W. S. Boynton of Colorado Springs was made chairman of the committee on permanent organization, while W. R. Duncan and J. P. Stevens, both of El Paso county, were members of other committees.

Delegates Elected.

The convention then proceeded to the selection of delegates to the Republican National convention at Chicago.

Judge Charles F. Casswell of Grand Junction and Clyde E. Dawson of Canon City were chosen delegates.

[illegible] D. Ewing of Gilpin county and Percy S. Ryder of Dolores county were chosen as alternates.

El Paso county was completely eliminated in the choice of delegates in accordance with the opposition of Mr. Boynton.

Candidate for Congress.

A committee was then named of which W. S. Boynton was chairman to select a candidate for congress and to see that the name was properly placed upon the official ballot and to attend to the details in connection therewith. In addition to this committee was [illegible] ally unanimous indorse of Congressman Ross, there is no doubt that he will be the nominee.

The convention adjourned with cheers for President Roosevelt.

After the convention then proceeded to the regulars from the beginning as was shown by the vote for the chairman in which they had a majority of 30, which was made 29 by the addition of five more delegates from Routt county. The anti's finding themselves in the minority gracefully acquiesced in the result.

RESCUE OF JAPANESE SAILORS AFTER AN ATTEMPT TO "BOTTLE UP" PORT ARTHUR.

STARTLED BY FLASHLIGHT

Methodists in General Conference Appeal to Managers of the Auditorium and to the Police for Protection From Photographers.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 4.—The absence of many delegates at the opening session of the 41st general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, due to belated trains, disrupted to some extent the program that had been mapped out and the first day's work ended at 6 o'clock this evening with nothing accomplished except the election of the conference secretary. This honor fell to Rev. James B. Hingely of the Minnesota conference and it required three ballots to make a choice.

The afternoon session met at 2 o'clock and spent three hours in balloting for secretary and in receiving and referring to committees various resolutions bearing upon questions to be considered by the general conference. This evening at 8 o'clock the reception of the general conference by the citizens and churchmen of Los Angeles was held at the pavilion. Address of welcome by representatives of the state, city and the church in southern California and response by eminent Methodist divines.

At the afternoon session Dr. D. T. Munroe of the central Pennsylvania conference asked to be excused from further service as secretary, not because he was in feeble health, as had been stated, although he is 71 years old, but for other reasons. Dr. Munroe told of his service as secretary, covering over a period of 20 years and asked the conference not to consider him as a candidate for re-election.

Dr. James M. Buckley of New York presented a set of resolutions commending the great work performed by Dr. Munroe during his terms of office as secretary to the general conference and expressing the appreciation of the church. While Dr. Buckley was reading his resolutions a photographer set off a flashlight in the gallery and the sudden flash and report so startled the eminent New York churchman that he took occasion to express his condemnation of such methods.

"I want to say," said Dr. Buckley, pausing for a moment after the flash, "that the man who did that may be a good photographer but he is ignorant of human nature and I trust that those in charge of this hall will take steps to omit such nerve racking occurrences without due notice to those present."

"I shall ask," said Bishop Andrews, "that the superintendent of the building and grounds follow the protest up from another such shock."

The subject of the deaconess work which was brought before the conference on a motion by Rev. Brushingham of Kentucky, of conference, stirred up a lively debate that occupied more than an hour. Rev. Brushingham's motion was for a committee on deaconess work, composed of 50 members, one-half ministers and one-half laymen, three to be appointed by each of the 14 district conferences and the remainder by the bishops. This was amended by Rev. Dr. Hughes of St. Louis so as to give the bishops power to appoint the entire membership of the committee. The Hughes substitute was carried by a large majority and the committee will be appointed by the bishops.

DEATHBED GIVES UP WIDOW'S SECRET

Washerwoman Hoarded Her Savings of Years in Flour Bin and Revealed Hiding Place When About to Die---Generous to Friend.

When Mrs. Hannah Daniels, an aged washerwoman believed by many to be poverty-stricken and practically destitute, died at her home, 408 North Cortez street, she left $2,450 in cash and four lots in Denver as an estate. Two days before she died, all this she gave to Mrs. Mary Craven, the woman who had nursed her and cared for her in the [illegible] of her last illness.

[illegible] asked her if there were no relatives [illegible] ing to whom she wanted to leave some of the money. Mrs. Daniels told her that she had not heard of a relative for 40 years and thought they were all dead.

Letter Gave Clew.

Mrs. Craven hunted through Mrs. Daniels' papers and found a letter from a sister, Mrs. Jean Rasmussen, written from Sydney, Neb., 14 years ago. Mrs. Craven spent enough of her hard-earned money to send a telegram to Mrs. Rasmussen telling her of her sister's condition and adding that there was plenty of money here. She also got the lawyer to draw up an order which took the money out of her own pocket.

The story of the wealth left by an apparently poor washerwoman and the unselfish honesty of another washerwoman developed yesterday after the filing of the will of the late Mrs. Daniels.

Friends Pitied Her.

"During her illness Mrs. Daniels was the object of charitable care. Friends for whom she had worked thought she was in need and reported her to the Associated Charities. Miss Carrington went to see her and Miss Clinton, the district nurse, accompanied her. Mrs. Daniels said then that she had a little money in the bank and was not destitute. She did not ask for assistance. Miss Carrington visited her several times. Friends of Mrs. Daniels, however, thought she was destitute and sent her things from time to time.

She was taken to the Glockner sanitarium for an operation to be performed and two days before that she told Mrs. Craven, her neighbor and friend, and the nurse, to go to the flour bin and get a tin pail out of it. They went and found the pail so heavy that it required considerable effort to lift it.

Sending of Money.

When they opened it, they found it was filled money. Mrs. Daniels said she did not know what to do with it and asked if she had better take it with her to the sanitarium. Mrs. Craven advised her to deposit it and the next day, she and Mrs. Daniels, who was able to walk, took the money to the bank. Mrs. Daniels gave the bank book to Mrs. Craven and indorsed all her keys and papers to Mrs. Craven to take care of them for her.

After she had been at the sanitarium some time, there was a consultation of doctors over her case and Mrs. Daniels told her friends that she thought she [illegible] One of the doctors overheard her and learned that there was no hope. She told Mrs. Daniels that she understood that she was not long for this world, and said that if Mrs. Craven was willing she wanted to do before she died, she had better do it at once.

Left All to Friend.

Mrs. Daniels then told Mrs. Craven that she wanted her to have all the money and wanted Mrs. Craven's husband to have the Denver lots. She also [illegible] and after the papers for the lots properly executed and then drew a check to Mrs. Craven's order for all the money she had in the bank. Mrs. Craven had previously asked her if there were no relatives that ought to be remembered and Mrs. Daniels said there were none.

It was Mrs. Craven who discovered the existence of Mrs. Rasmussen and who wired her to come here, thus enabling the aged sister to [illegible] that had dawned before her. When Mrs. Daniels knew of her sister's existence, she asked Mrs. Craven to give everything back, and Mrs. Craven did so without a murmur and saw in her friend's eye everything arising to the other.

Provided for Monument.

The will was drawn by Attorney [illegible] as Mrs. Daniels willed the lots to the boy as she first intended and put in a proviso that Mrs. Craven should be fully paid for all her care and attention during Mrs. Daniels' last sickness. She also specified that she was to have a $150 funeral and that a monument not to exceed $50 in cost, should be erected over her grave.

When it was decided not to operate on the woman Mrs. Daniels was removed to her home, 408 North Cortez, where she died among the scenes of poverty, where she had labored for years over the washtub and ironing-board earning the quarters and half-dollars and dollars that were carefully stowed away in the flour bin, [illegible] a fortune of nearly $2,500.

The Denver lots are not valuable, it is understood, are not worth more than $500.

CLERGYMAN NURSE MISSES MARRIAGE

Miss McAdams Becomes Bride of Montana Mining King Falls Captive to Charms of Pretty Young Woman Who Attended Him in Illness, and a Romantic Wedding Follows.

It will be a surprise to many in Colorado Springs to hear that Miss Rose McAdams, the well-known and very popular trained nurse of this city, was quietly married last night in the parlors of the Elk hotel and left immediately after with her husband, D. C. Stevens, a Montana man of riches, for Denver.

Miss McAdams is 25 and her husband 55 years of age.

Mr. Stevens, who is rated in the millionaire class and who has a handsome home in Bozeman, Mont., was in Phoenix, Ariz., last summer for the benefit of his health. He is a sufferer from asthma. There he met Miss McAdams, who was in Phoenix on a pleasure trip visiting friends. He quickly became enamored of the Colorado Springs young lady and paid her marked attentions. Miss McAdams returned to Colorado Springs and shortly afterwards the Montana man arrived here. Finding that Miss McAdams was a [illegible] he secured the services of Rev. [illegible] to act as nurse and [illegible] ing. [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] be acted as a [illegible] and finally was accepted.

The wedding was set for 6 o'clock last evening. Owing to the non-appearance of friends who were to be witness to the happy event, it was postponed until 10 o'clock, and immediately after it was over the happy couple departed for Denver on a belated train.

It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will probably make this city their home, on account of Mr. Stevens' health.

RUSSIAN LOSS WAS TWICE JAPANESE

According to Official Russian Estimates Many Are Inclined to Place the Russian Losses Even Higher Than Fair.

St. Petersburg, May 5.—4 a. m.—The Russian losses at the battle of Kiu-lien-cheng were 2,000 men and 40 officers, far greater than previous reports indicated. This is the official estimate of Major General Kashtalinsky, who directly commanded the division that rendered the brunt of the attack and which report was received yesterday by the emperor. Many are inclined to place the Russian losses even higher. General Kashtalinsky mentions also that more than 800 wounded had arrived at Feng-wang-cheng and there may not be included in his calculations. He made no attempt to estimate the Japanese losses merely stating [illegible]

A Terrible Price to Pay.

The magnitude of the Russian losses had an almost stunning effect on the authorities and aroused general grief, mitigated only by satisfaction at the bravery displayed by the Russian troops.

Not for a moment was there any intention to pay such a terrible price for delaying the enemy's crossing of the Yalu. This fact was known throughout the city and gave rise to renewed reports, attributed to official sources, that General Kuropatkin and officials censured Lieut. General Zassulitch if this was so General Kuropatkin's telegraphed criticism of Zassulitch was carefully cut out of the dispatches which have been published and the general impression now held is that he will remain in Manchuria.

General Kashtalinsky's report establishes the fact that the Russians sustained the greatest losses in order to save the [illegible] regiments which were occupying Antung.

The Eleventh regiment was given the post of honor in the rear with instructions to hold back the oncoming Japanese. The Twelfth regiment and the Third battery a quick firing detachment were directed to retire.

By the time the latter movement commenced the Japanese had almost surrounded the Russian position. The Twelfth regiment was compelled to charge with the bayonet, and succeeded in breaking through the enemy's line. The Second battery's quick firing detachment, without horses, could not move the guns, and were compelled to abandon them. The men of the Second battery put their shoulders to the wheels in an effort to push the guns up the mountainside, but the Japanese fire was so hot that they returned to the protection of the Eleventh regiment.

Guns Were Abandoned.

Nearer and nearer approached the Japanese and a charge upon the Eleventh regiment and the Second battery was imminent, so the guns were abandoned.

Then a priest led the troops and they began the terrible march across the valley. Kiu-lien-cheng is history, and we must now deal with impending events," said an officer of the general staff to the Associated Press.

The idea has prevailed that the Russians would not make a stand at Feng-wang-cheng, but the fact that a Japanese occupation of that point would enable a movement to the southward, thus cutting off the Liao-tung peninsula, is being taken into consideration by the authorities, leads to the expectation that General Kuropatkin will dispatch strong reinforcements, there and make a determined stand.

The activity of the Japanese, it is remarked, here is not only north of the Yalu from which there is constant scouting, but also on the Liao-tung peninsula, though the failure to seal Port Arthur may interfere with the operations they had been expected to carry out on the west coast of that peninsula.

The local track and field meet of the High school students was held yesterday afternoon on Washburn field and was captured by the senior class, which [illegible] with 53 points, against 39 points of the sophomore class and 36 points of the freshman class. The juniors made 19 points out of the total of 192 points for the meet. The victory of the seniors also gives them the Alumni cup, which they won last year.

The board of education allowed the school a half holiday but the threatening weather interfered to a great extent with the attendance. There was considerable enthusiasm displayed however and the meet passed off without accident.

There were few features. The rain made the track slow and the running events were not as fast as had been expected. Tyler finished the 50-yard dash in comparatively good time, however, making the distance in 5 4-5 seconds. The relay race was not run, as the freshmen were the only ones to have a team in shape. The event was given to them.

From the list of men who finished first and second in the different events, the team of ten men which is to represent the school at the state interscholastic meet in Boulder one week from Saturday will be chosen.

An effort is being made to pull off a dual meet with Cutler academy before the state meet.

And Lost Game to St. Joe by Score of 6 to 2.

THE SAINTS PLAYED WELL

HUDSON, THE BANTAM WEIGHT PITCHER, HELD THE DENVER TEAM DOWN TO SEVEN SCATTERED HITS.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, May 4.—The Jesters defeated the Cubs in a poor exhibition of ball today by a score of 6 to 2. It was Denver's off day for fair and when it came to stopping the ball or fielding it the Denver bunch was not there for a minute. However, the Saints played a good game from the start with the exception of a few unnecessary errors. Hudson, the bantamweight pitcher, proved himself a wonder and held the heavy-hitting Denver team down to seven scattered hits, which meant but two scores at the most. Every member of the St. Joseph team was there to win. That is all there was to it. Belden had his batting clothes on and the way he swatted the ball around the field is a shame to put in print. Lavelle and Webster were not [illegible] a hit off either, with the stick, and chopped up two hits each. Webster's three hitter scored two men in the first and Belden scored on Lavelle's hit.

AN AUDIENCE ... AND SLAUGHTER

THE EVENING with ROSLYN SAMUELS removes DIFFICULTIES—HIS SCOPE and UNIQUE ORGANIZATION.

The Roslyn D. S. Concert company of Chicago gave one of the most delightful entertainments in the First Methodist church last evening. The originator, trainer and manager, Mr. Roslyn B. Rosey, certainly has evolved something unusual in the boys' chimes which were repeatedly encored.

The duet, "Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove," by Wiegand, sung by Masters Hosea and Lennon was well rendered. Neidlinger's concert in E minor, andante and finale by Master Edmund Hunnewell, a pupil of Earl L. Drake of Chicago, was delightfully well played. Master Jay Linden's "Trocadero Flight" fantasie of national airs, composed by Hartmann gave rise to great applause.

Nevin's celebrated song, "My Rosary," as sung by Master Archie Hooper was very beautiful. Also the song, "Happy Days" rendered by Master Glen Workman, with flute obligato.

In the choice of old favorites "My Old Kentucky Home," and "Tenting Tonight" led, and great enthusiasm was shown when the boys appeared in Highland Scottish costume and sang several songs accompanied by triangle, tambourine, castanets and violin. The closing number was the national hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," sung by the audience standing, led by the boys with voices, violins, flute and organ chimes.

ONE HUNDRED HEAD OF CATTLE ... TAIN RIDE IS RESULT WITH ... CASUALTY

One hundred head of cattle being driven over the Cheyenne mountain trail towards South Park were victims of a fierce storm on Monday.

A bunch of cowboys with J. B. Smith as foreman, was herding a drove of 400 head of cattle towards South Park. The cattle were started up the Cheyenne mountain trail Monday and were soon in the face of a fierce blizzard. Despite the desperate efforts of the cowboys to keep them going, the cattle turned and stampeded back. They rushed madly down the trail, crowding over each other and piling each other off the trail and down the mountain side. The cattle had reached Wade's ranch before they lined up on the trail and mountain side between Wade's and Broadmoor was strewn with the carcasses of those that had been killed or perished from the storm.

The cowboys have had great difficulty in getting the others of the herd together again. The cattle are scattered all over the Broadmoor range. While three or four are herding them back into a roundup, the others are skinning the dead cattle and burying the carcasses. The skins will be sold here.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS AT WAR

Cascade and Green Mountain Falls Have Been Involved in Dispute Over Territory.

School district 61, which is the Cascade school district, has just been defeated in an attempt to increase its territory by decreasing the territory of school district 62, the Green Mountain Falls district.

One pupil residing in Cascade attends school at Cascade because it is nearer than Green Mountain Falls and this was made the basis of the claim for certain territory. The territory asked for comprises two sections through which the tracks of the Colorado Midland are laid. There are several miles of railroad track taxable at a high figure and 42 would benefit greatly from the increase in revenue, while 62 would suffer correspondingly.

District 62 engaged Judge S. H. Kinnear to look after its interests and the case was finally argued before Superintendent E. M. Collins, who denied the request of 42 and ordered the boundaries to remain unchanged.

WIFE GETS OUT WARRANT FOR HUSBAND'S ARREST.

A warrant for the arrest of James A. Warford was issued by Justice Raby yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Warford who says her husband has failed to support her. Warford claimed to be a detective while living here, but it is said he has been working on the Vindicator mine in the Cripple Creek district.

SAW THE SCENERY; ... AND ARMY HARVEY.

A party of 50 railroad engineers from Pennsylvania spent yesterday in Colorado Springs. The delegation from the Keystone state is on its way to the national convention of engineers which will be held shortly in California. The day was spent in driving through the Garden of the Gods and other scenic points after which the party left for the coast.

QUEEN'S OUR VETERINARIAN ... LECTURE AND DRAMATIC CLASSES

A very interesting meeting of the Art and Literature department of the Woman's club was held in All Souls' church yesterday afternoon, Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, chairman presiding.

Several changes in the by-laws were made with the approval of the members, and it was decided to have a dramatic class the coming year.

The last study class for the year will be held on Thursday, May 12, at the home of Mrs. [illegible] North Weber street.

By advice of the chairman, the members will read along the lines of the books mentioned in the new program.

An effort will be made to continue the French class the coming year. Names should be sent in at once to the secretary, by all intending to join.

The last meeting of the year will be held on Saturday, May 14, the paper on "Novelists, Not Local" will be given by Mrs. Elizabeth D. Preston. Mrs. [illegible] will talk on "Artistic Advertising."

Yesterday's papers were: "Social Science"—Jacob A. Riis, 1849; Richard T. Ely, 1854; (Perry, Remis, Wright, Sumner, Wells, Bascom, Patten, Giddings, Flynt, Curtis, Burgess, Bellamy,) by Stella [illegible].

Mrs. [illegible] had the subject, "Book Plates, Book Binding, Rovcroft Book Binding," was most appropriate. Specimens of Rovcroft work were exhibited also some beautiful book plates by Miss Katherine Sverlley of this city.

Mrs. Sawyer gave a delightful talk on Elbert Hubbard and his work in the few moments before adjournment.

SAYS HUSBAND ... SOLDIER BOY

BRIDE OF FOUR DAYS TELLS STORY OF CRUEL TREATMENT AT THE HANDS OF HER HUSBAND.

Mrs. Anna Greidelinger filed suit for divorce from Theo. L. Greidelinger in the district court yesterday and asked for and received an injunction against her husband on the grounds that he had threatened to kill her.

This is the beginning of the end of a short married career, as the records show that the couple became man and wife just three months ago.

Mrs. Greidelinger charges extreme and repeated acts of cruelty, alleging that Greidelinger beat her with his fists, kicked her, cut her, poured boiling water on her, and called her vile and abusive names. She also charges non-support. She says her husband is strong and able bodied and is employed at a hotel where he earns $75 per month and that he has money in the First National bank. She says he took from her all the money she had and left her destitute.

She closes by stating that her husband has made threats upon her life and she therefore asks for an injunction to restrain him from interfering with her in any way. Judge Lewis in chambers, issued the injunction forthwith.

Mrs. Greidelinger asks that the defendant be ordered to pay into court the sum of $25 for court costs, $50 for attorney's fees, and $40 a month temporary alimony.

SEWER CONTRACT

Joyce Will Lay Utility Supply Pipe for New Water, Co. Submitted Lowest Bid.

E. H. Joyce will probably get the contract for the three miles of sewer mains to be laid by the city as his bid is almost $1,500 below the next one received. [illegible] bid was that of the Gilmore Plumbing company, $3,538.74. The work will be done much cheaper this year than heretofore because of competition in the pipe circles.

The price of pipe dropped from 16 cents to 9 cents per foot.

DAMAGE NOT HEAVY

Wrecked Short Line Engine and Trestle Will Be Repaired at Cost of $1000—Work of Raising Engine.

It is probable that the officials of the Short Line will decide to replace the wrecked trestle on Tejon street with a steel structure similar to that used by the Denver & Rio Grande.

General Superintendent F. C. Smith stated yesterday that the total loss caused by the wreck would amount to about $1,000. Of this amount $700 represents the damage to the engine and tender.

The engine will be replaced upon the track sometime today. A gang of seventy men spent yesterday in lowering the track to the level of the engine wheels and it will be pulled from where it now lies by means of chains attached to other engines.

All of the men injured in the accident are slowly recovering and are out of danger.

Carpet Buying Time Is Here

These odd carpets may not have looked badly during the dreary (?) winter months. But now when nature is doing her best to make this old earth of ours an attractive place to live in, these same carpets look rather dingy, do they not in comparison with the beautiful green carpet that is rapidly covering city, mountain, and plain.

RUGS vs. CARPETS

A carpet completely covering the floor cannot, with convenience, be taken up. And sweeping removes only a part of the surface dirt and drives the balance into the carpet to be stirred up with every step.

A rug can be taken out, thoroughly cleaned and aired. Then when it is replaced it IS CLEAN, now which would you prefer, a rug or carpet.

Our New Rugs

We have recently received a new line of rugs in very choice designs and beautiful colorings. All sizes and many different qualities. Among these were some extremely rich looking Axminster Rugs.

AMUSEMENTS.

VAUDEVILLE AT THE WIGWAM GARDEN.

There will be a complete change of bill at the Opera house vaudeville this week. Every song and all the acts will be changed, but the same excellent company of performers will give them. Miss Annette Shaw will sing [illegible] Night, Like a Star That Falls From Heaven," and will have a handsome new set of slides to illustrate it. Misses Chester and Smith will sing the duet, "Over Hill and Dale" and "Why Did They Sell Killarney?"

All of the specialty acts will be changed, introducing fresh comedy work.

Next Saturday and Sunday the vaudeville will move over to the Hiawatha gardens at Manitou on account of the minstrel at the Opera house. Performances will be given afternoon and evening but the management is not quite ready to announce all of the arrangements.

Minstrels on Saturday.

Richards and Pringle's minstrels come to the Opera house Saturday afternoon and evening next at the lowest prices that have ever been known at the house for such a big show. The matinee prices are 25 and 50 cents. In addition some lucky child in the audience will be given a prize of $5 in gold. The money will go to the child holding a certain lucky seat.

Anna Held Seats.

Tickets for the Anna Held performance at the Opera house next Tuesday evening go on sale Friday morning.

Miss Held will be seen in her new production, "Mamselle Napoleon." The piece is a brilliant musical comedy in four acts and five scenes. The book is the work of Joseph W. Herbert, and is from the French of Jean Richepin, Gustav Ludyes, who is best remembered for his delightful musical comedies, has prepared the numbers of "Mamselle Napoleon."

Forge Closes at the [illegible]

Last night's crowd at this popular theater was one of the largest in the history of the house. This week's bill is [illegible] of exceptional merits and [illegible] a treat to lovers of comedy as well as to those who appreciate good music.

Every act on the bill is good and that is saying a good deal. The motion picture of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is to please everybody.

Just a little early in the week to mention it but don't forget the big [illegible] matinee for the little folks Saturday.

GOOD FRUIT CROP IS ... PROMISED AT CANON CITY.

Special to the Gazette.

Canon City, May 4.—Since the heavy rains here the fruit buds have multiplied amazingly. Another frost or two would not seriously endanger the now certain large crop, as trees are even yet too heavily laden with buds. The outlook is very favorable. This is the opinion of such experienced fruit men as Dell DeWeese and others.

THURSDAY, MAY 5, 1904

CONGRESSMAN H. M. HOGG

The renomination of Congressman Harold M. Hogg has been conceded for some time a good and was entirely justified by his record in congress.

Mr. Hogg has made a faithful and capable representative of the Second congressional district and has left nothing undone which would advance the welfare of the state and of his constituents.

He is a very popular public man, and as a vote getter cannot be surpassed, as was demonstrated by the fact that he obtained a splendid majority in a district which has hitherto been hostile to the Republican party.

Mr. Hogg deserves the renomination for his past services and when he is again re-elected he will continue to serve the people faithfully, with credit to himself and to the Republican party.

THE REVIVAL AT LEADVILLE.

Almost the old time mining district of Leadville is getting into better shape than it has been for several years. This is clearly evidenced by the output of 70,000 tons of ore for the month of April.

Like many Colorado camps Leadville has had its ups and downs. From the days of California gulch the district has run the gamut from excessive prosperity to excessive ruin. When silver began to go down Leadville also began to lose its prosperity, and about five years ago the district was at its lowest ebb. Since that time, however, strikes of gold and rich bodies of silver have been frequently made and a steady upward movement has been in progress for two or three years past.

More recent discoveries, however, in the southern end of the district have given the greatest impetus in mining operations that Leadville has known for several years. This portion of the camp, often believed to be barren or played out has been developing some bonanzas ore, and there has been a marked increase in interest and in the expenditure of money. The result is already shown in the increased output for April, and further operations will undoubtedly add to the monthly tonnage.

The famous district, therefore, seems to be getting well upon its feet again and will continue to be one of the greatest mining camps that the world has ever known.

GREAT IN HORTICULTURE.

The annual report of the state board of horticulture discloses some facts and figures which should be borne in mind by every Coloradoan.

Many times a year the resident of the Centennial state is asked concerning the products of this region. Nearly everyone can tell how much gold we produce, but very few know the volume of our horticulture.

Know then, that the valuation of the fruit crop for 1903 was $5,210,730.

Number of acres planted to orchards, 66,000.

Land available for orchards and small fruit, 780,000 acres.

Varieties of fruit grown in Colorado, 573.

This includes every variation of apples, peaches, plums, strawberries, cherries, etc.

Colorado fruit has a world-wide reputation. The Canon City peaches and the Canon City apples and other Colorado strawberries are superior to those grown in any other state west of the Mississippi, in flavor and in quality the fruit is not surpassed anywhere on the globe. The best proof of this assertion is that Colorado fruit took the highest awards at the World's fair. Colorado fruit is shipped to all parts of the world, and wherever it is sold it is the best.

CO-GRADO AND CALIFORNIA.

Gradually Colorado and California are coming to the front as competitors of California in the fruit growing industry. The belief that this is the healthiest state in the union and that the Pike's Peak region is the healthiest section in the state is confirmed by the reports from California.

1911 The Colorado Springs Gazette for the year 1911 will be a daily issue of 11 pages per 10,000. Average circulation for the year 1911, 10,000 copies. Actual circulation for the year 1911, 10,000 copies. Colorado Springs, 9 p.m. 10,000.

It is therefore clear that by putting both states on the same level that Colorado, and the Pike's Peak region by far the healthiest climate, and only of the riches fruit of the world.

The Russian and Japanese steamers of the Yalu River have been engaged in a fierce battle for the past few days. The Japs had the best of it and the Russians fled in fear.

A California man got locked in a box car and died from hunger for seven days. The poor man must have passed pretty well sealed on the world.

Boston has arranged for a quiet 4th of July. The ghost of the day at Faneuil Hall is dead and dumb.

It will be a pretty slow town that won't have Halley's comet after the present eruption of Jupiter Pinchus.

The Japanese at Port Arthur are evidently living up to their habit of fighting the devil with fire.

It usually takes a week for the spring storm to exhaust itself, so we have to [illegible] pleasant.

With the Little Folks

"Can anyone tell me what a Christian is?" asked the Sunday school teacher.

"A man," I can," answered a little girl. "A Christian is a man who owns a lot of land and has a horse and cow."

"I hope, Johnny," said the visitor, "that I haven't disturbed your pa and ma at dinner."

"No," replied Johnny. "Ma was just goin' to sit down, but pa saw you from the window an' he told me not to have dinner till you went."

"Do you know the meaning of the word 'lazy'?" asked the teacher, addressing a small pupil.

"Sure," answered the little fellow. "It means that you'd rather sit down and watch the other fellow do it."

"Boys," said the old woman who was on her way to church, "don't you know that it is wrong to play ball on Sunday?"

"We ain't playin' ball," replied one of the youngsters. "We're only practicin' for baseball."

Frances had been brought up in a most Presbyterian household and in all her nine years had never attended service in a church of another denomination.

While on a visit with her mother to a part of the country far from her own home she entered the parlor one Saturday afternoon and eagerly asked:

"Oh, mamma, may I go to the Episcopal church with Gertie tomorrow? I'm sensible not to believe a single word the minister says."

There are two boys who manage to be rather unruly in school and their teacher was so exasperated one day that she ordered them to remain after hours and write their names 1,000 times. She watched them plunge into the task. Some fifteen minutes later one of them stood up and began watching his companion in disgust. Suddenly the first one burst out with a roar of laughter and between his sobs said to the teacher: "Taint no use, ma'am. His name's Bush and mine's Schlitterbeyer!"

Good Short Stories

WANTED THE MORTGAGE HIMSELF.

W. T. Morgan of Kansas City tells of a Swede who came from Dakota to Kansas and wanted to buy a farm. The land agent took him around, and he finally found what he wanted and said: "Ay tak dis one." Then he went back to town, and the agent was making out the papers.

"How do you want to pay for it?" he asked.

"Ay pay all Ay hav da money."

"All right, I'll make out the deed," said the agent.

"No," said Ole Olsen, "Ay no want deed."

"Yes, you do," argued the agent; "you pay the money and you get the deed."

"No, no," said the Swede, earnestly. "Ay no want deed. Ay had dred cop in Dakway. Ay pay man de money. He gif me deed. Ay gif heem mortgage. Ay tak land. By en by he get land, he get deed, he haf da money. Dan time Ay want no deed. Ay want mortgage. Ay pay da money. You gif me mortgage."—Louisville (Ky.) Herald.

THE JUDGE REWARDED.

A certain judge who possesses a degree from a leading university dropped in one day at a new thirst resort, incidentally to see the decorations of the place. When the judge entered, one of the barkeepers was discoursing to a customer upon the beauty of a stained glass window.

"Dat window," he said, "is de handsomest one in any joint in town. I don't know what dat Eye-talian on it means. Wish I did.

"That motto," said the judge, obligingly, "is Dum vivimus vivamus, and means 'While we live, let us live.'"

"Say," replied the barkeeper, "ain't dat great! I'm awful glad to know what dat motto stands for."

The next day the judge being in the same neighborhood, again entered the resort to get some refreshment, when the barkeeper cheerily greeted him:

"Good mornin', professor. Glad to see you. Say, I'll give yours some good whisky dis time."—San Francisco Call.

GEORGIA CANDIDATE READ FALSE.

Georgians at the capitol yesterday were telling an enthusiastic story about a Bryan Ave candidate for office down there, and how this same candidate won votes during a house-to-house canvass.

Let me look at your hand," this candidate would say to a voter. "Ah, I see there the letter 'M.' You will notice that I have the same sign in my hand. If I am elected and you come to see me, just show that sign in your hand. Then I shall know that you are my friend."

Every voter thus addressed felt flattered, and the candidate thereby gained great strength. The ruse was practiced in a mountain section of the state, where it did not occur to the inhabitants that every man has a letter 'M' outlined in the palm of his hand.—Washington Post.

PROMINENT MEN INTERESTED IN RED MOUNTAIN ENTERPRISE

The Bullion King Mining Company, whose field of operations comprises a very extensive area in Porphyry Basin, Red Mountain mining district, at Jamestown, of about one and a half miles due west from the Silver Ledge properties, is one of the latest prominent enterprises that has taken life in this county. The company is a close corporation and does no advertising. The holdings of the company consist of two groups of claims, in all six claims, situated on the north side of Red Mountain, and on the Ohio Trust, one of the richest gold veins of the mineral belt. Further it will have seven more claims, the Bullion King, another patented claim, and nearly all the angle with the Twist, and of a good sampling record from ore dumps in the way of gold.
